

PENN MAY LOSE ITS WATER POLO TEAM AFTER TONIGHT'S CONTEST

Captain Walter Faries, Mainstay of Sextet, Will Join Ordnance Corps on Monday

By PAUL PREP. The University of Pennsylvania may lose its water polo team after its titular contest with the University of Columbia tonight in New York.

WALTER R. FARIES

A water polo team is generally composed of six players, but the Penn team is different from the others. The Red and Blue team in Walter R. Faries. Of course, five other men will assist Faries in tonight's contest, but he will do all the work.

Faries expects to be called into active service as a member of the ordnance department on Monday and unless the Government officials suddenly change their plans the game against Columbia may mark his last appearance.

This is Faries' second year on the varsity water polo team. His wonderful work this year has kept Penn in the running for the championship. Although no official records have been published, Penn is credited with scoring 161 points in its games with City College of New York, Yale and Princeton. Of this number Faries has tallied 85.

Scored 35 Points in One Game. The recent routing of the Penn faculty left Faries as the only regular. The night the new rule went into effect Penn played C. C. N. Y. in New York. Faries was appointed captain and with five other string men took the trip.

After one of the fiercest games of the season Penn triumphed by the score of 35-8, the new leader making the entire 25 points. Penn at present is tied with Yale for first place in the Intercollegiate Association and has two more contests scheduled after tonight, meeting Columbia, Princeton each once. If Faries should be lost he will virtually wipe off all chances Penn had of winning the title, for the Red and Blue cannot hope to hold its own with an inexperienced team without a veteran to steady the men.

Faries prepared at Penn Charter, but didn't go in for athletics. After graduating from Penn Charter he entered Haverford College. He was a member of the Haverford gym team for three years, swinging the clubs.

In 1915 he won the Middle Atlantic states A. A. U. club-swinging championship. He entered the Penn Law School after completing a four-year course at Haverford. In addition to being a member of the water polo team, Faries holds the submerged time record for the Penn pool. His best mark, accomplished some time ago, is four and one-half minutes under water. His strong endurance power under water has enabled him to outlast his opponents in water polo and incidentally to score many points.

Has Narrow Escape. Penn's "human submarine" had a very narrow escape from the Huns last summer. Having nothing to do during the summer months and being a first-class wireless operator of the Marconi code, Faries was invited to act as wireless operator on a large vessel which was used to carry oil to the British fleet.

13 MEN JAILED AFTER CRIMINAL ROUND-UP

Five Others of 200 Suspicious Persons Arrested Held for Hearings

SERIOUS CHARGES MADE. Attorneys and Detective in Bitter Rows—Reference to "Fifth Ward Stuff"

Serious charges and counter-charges, bitter recriminations, bestial arguments, hints of future sensational revelations and the turning of the spotlight on crime conditions said to be the most menacing the city has known during the last fifteen years, marked hearings today before Magistrate Watson at the Central Station. Thirteen of the 200 men rounded up in last night's police raid were committed to the House of Correction for three months each, four were held for further hearings next Tuesday and one youth was held for court on charges of carrying concealed deadly weapons.

Harry Stone, nineteen years old, "no address given," was held in $500 bail for court on charges of carrying an automatic revolver. He is originally from New York city and has been here for six months.

"I have known no such case of crime since the days of the 18th convention more than fifteen years ago," declared Captain Nicholas Kenney, in speaking of the results of the big police dragnet operations of last night, in which more than 200 "demons of the underworld," "blatant," "vicious," "cut-throats" and the like were caught in a trap that was as successful as it was sudden and secret.

LAWYER SCORES SLIGHT. "Don't pull any of your 'Fifth Ward stuff' here," cried Edwin M. Abbott, attorney and member of the State Legislature, as he faced City Detective Clark, testifying on the witness stand as to what he knew of the actions of John Brady, 311 North Marshall street, caught in the dragnet of the police and representing at today's hearings by Abbott.

"I'm not pulling any Fifth Ward stuff," shouted Clark in reply. "I know these people and I am telling you what they are."

"Well, you'll be put where you belong," responded Abbott, when the thoroughly aroused detective had stopped talking.

"I'll tell you where you belong," verified the witness, "and I want you to know that I fear no one! I'll put you where you belong! I'll make you eat your words!"

At this point, Magistrate Watson intervened, cautioned all of the attorneys present not to use insulting language in examining witnesses and not to ask leading questions.

The outbreak between Abbott and Clark followed an equally unadorned and vitriolic clash between Clark and Attorney Harry Berkevic. Detective McCarthy, also of the city force, leaned over and whispered to Clark concerning some testimony which he wished him to bring out in his evidence. Clark had hardly begun speaking when Berkevic broke in with, "Oh, he (meaning Clark) will say anything." This was hotly retorted by the testifying detective, and when crossed by Abbott later, his anger flared.

Director of Public Safety Wilson was present but took no part in the hearing. He said that he intended to keep the city clean and to continue the present raids until all criminals have been rounded up. He announced that it is not his intention to "prosecute the innocent." He commended the police force for its fine work of last night.

The raid of last night was one of the biggest ever carried out by the local police. Headed by Captain Kenney, fifty plain clothes men, assisted by 150 policemen, made arrests in streets, poolrooms, alleys and questionable resorts in the district bounded by Market and Spring Garden streets, and Broad and Sixth streets. The raids were carried out between 10 o'clock last night and 1 o'clock this morning, and were begun without the slightest warning.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—Preparations are under way for the second draft call, Senator Frelinghuysen, New Jersey, informed the Senate today. Senator Frelinghuysen was urging immediate passage of the resolution, insisting all who have become twenty-one since the 5th of last June under the draft.

Passage of the resolution was blocked when Senator New, of Indiana, offered an amendment providing for universal military training as a permanent policy. New refused to withdraw the amendment to allow speedy passage of the Frelinghuysen resolution, and Senator Frelinghuysen was forced to withdraw his request for immediate action.

Without debate the Senate passed a resolution authorizing the President to call into military service at any time persons classified as skilled experts in industry or agriculture.

DR. NAON TO RETURN. BUENOS AIRES, March 1.—Dr. Bonifacio R. Naon, Argentine ambassador to the United States, who is here holding a series of conferences with President Frigoyen, is expected to return to his post in Washington.

There is strong sentiment on every hand for the return of Doctor Naon to Washington for a continuation of his brilliant services as diplomatic envoy of the republic. This sentiment is indubitably in official circles as well as among the public at large.

Doctor Naon has twice conferred with the President and a third meeting will take place shortly. However, nothing is being published here as to the result of the conferences.

HENEY STIRS CONGRESS BY APPEAL FOR POWER. Federal Investigator's Request for Wider Authority in Probe of Packers "Very Unusual"

WASHINGTON, March 1.—Francis Henev, special investigator of the Federal Trade Commission, has precipitated lively discussion in Congress as a result of his request for legislative authority setting aside the power of writs to stay the hand of the Government in seeking evidence.

But Congress must be convinced of the need for legislation giving Federal investigators broader powers to compel production of evidence before it grants the request of the Federal Trade Commission, legislators indicated today.
